Foreword

Ever since its establishment in 2012, the Equity Release Council has promoted the highest Standards of consumer protection, building on the foundations already established by its predecessor body

Safe Home Income Plans (SHIP).

Over time, the Standards have evolved, making sure that they are always relevant to changing market conditions, to meet the needs of customers and to facilitate innovation in a growing market. In recent years, we have updated the Standards to avoid unnecessary duplication with the statutory requirements of the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA), Solicitors Regulation Authority (SRA) and other regulators, by which all members must abide, and to fill any gaps in protection.

Most importantly, the focus of the Standards has changed from a largely rules-based approach to one that ensures the best and most appropriate outcomes for customers. This latest version of the Standards explicitly recognises that individual customers' needs vary and can change over time, and that some may face periods of vulnerability which call for still greater forbearance and protection.

The maintenance and development of these Standards, which have the robust support of the Council's membership, is a key driver for growth in the Later Life Lending market. Statutory rules provide customers with a minimum element of protection but these Standards, to which Council members adhere on a voluntary basis, build trust. The fact that a firm is willing to go beyond what is required of them by statute is a clear sign of their commitment to pursue the customer's best interests. That builds the confidence of consumers and of those firms – big and small – whose reputation and business success depends on trust.

As the FCA considers whether to require a Consumer Duty or Duty of Care on all financial services firms, our members can say proudly that they already exercise such a duty through adherence to the voluntary Standards.

Equity release now plays an increasingly important role in meeting family and public aspirations: the aspiration of one generation to help another; the aspiration for a more comfortable retirement; and the aspiration to be able to meet the costs of long-term care should it be needed.

This latest version of the Standards will help the later life lending market grow further with confidence, providing still greater opportunity for our members to support those public policy goals while engaged in this increasingly innovative and vibrant market.

I want to thank all those who have given their time and shared their expertise as part of the expert working group which has helped to develop the Standards and our risk, policy and compliance team who so ably coordinated and led this latest stage of their evolution.

Chris Pond,
Chairman of the Equity Release Council Standards Board

Introduction to the Standards

The Standards have been divided into two sections. Part A documents the principles, customer outcomes and rules which must be followed by members of the Equity Release Council. Part B provides guidance and good practice examples to support members to achieve this. Part B is designed for members only.

This document is subject to regular review by the Equity Release Council Standards Board (“Standards Board”).

It is recognised that there may, from time to time, be exceptional circumstances concerning a particular product or practice which is not in line with the rules, but which may be beneficial to customers or a particular group of customers. Where such exceptional circumstances arise, the Standards Board will consider what action to take on a case-by-case basis.

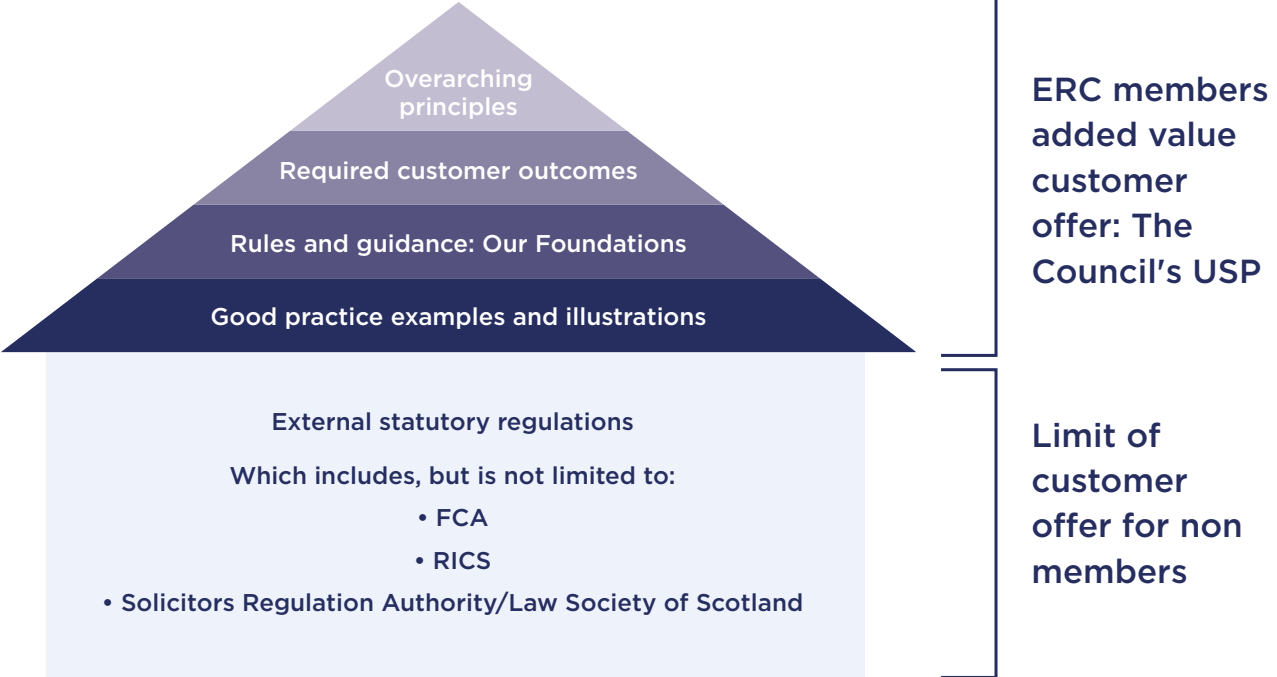

Our Standards encompass our proposition, our overarching principles, our required customer outcomes and our rules and guidance for members.

The Equity Release Council (“Council”) is a voluntary body which aims to ensure that its members are highly professional and act with integrity and transparency in offering high-quality products and services to customers.

Each member agrees to adhere to a set of Standards. Through these Standards, members can guarantee customers that they offer products and services which conform to the good practices of the sector, ensuring that customers are fully informed and properly protected.

The Standards Board is incorporated as part of the Council and exists to ensure that equity release products are safe and reliable for consumers. The chair of the Standards Board is tasked with ensuring that the Council is constantly driving up standards within the sector and sharing good practice and innovation so that people who use products and services from Equity Release Council members can feel confident in their choice. The Standards Board has three independent members and representation from each of the provider, adviser, lawyer and associate membership (including surveyors and other member types).

Our proposition

Overarching principles

Our members will comply with all statutory regulation. In addition, our members will also comply with the Council's principles, required consumer outcomes, and rules which are set out below and over the following pages.

1. Members will ensure that all their actions promote public confidence in equity release.

2. Members will act, at all times, in utmost good faith, with the best interests of their customers being paramount, by treating customers fairly in all their actions.

3. Members will ensure conflicts of interest are identified swiftly and managed fairly.

4. Members will seek to deliver suitable outcomes for customers from initial sale through every point of contact during the life of the product.

Required customer outcomes

Our members will provide information, advice, and professional services that are clear, transparent and impartial. The five required customer outcomes are as follows:

- 1. Members will offer customers the products and services that suit their needs best and which offer fair value
- 2. The amount charged by a member for a product/service should reflect the benefits customers expect and communicated in a manner customers can understand
- 3. Members will seek to identify and provide appropriate support to customers who may be exposed to physical, mental and financial vulnerability at any point of contact
- 4. Members will do their best to make sure that customers understand their rights and responsibilities at every point of contact
- 5. Customers will be confident that they will be able to live in their own property for as long as they wish, or move to a suitable alternative property, as long as they abide by the terms and conditions of their contract

Rules

1. All members rules

1.1 Annual Certificate of Compliance:

All members are required to complete and submit, on the anniversary of their admission as members of the Council, an Annual Certificate of Compliance with these rules and guidance.

[Equity Release Council
Annual Compliance Certificate.](#)

1.2 Fees and charges:

All members are bound by the appropriate regulator's rules on excessive charging.

[FCA Handbook,
MCOB 12.5 Excessive Charges.](#)

1.3 Member subscriptions:

All subscriptions and fees will be fixed by the Main Board which will have the power, in cases where it considers it appropriate, to waive all or part of the subscription or fees, or any arrears thereof due from a member.

- The subscription and fees levels will be set by the Main Board at two-year intervals, but the Board reserves the right to review and amend rates of subscription at a shorter interval if deemed appropriate.
- The subscription year for each member will run for no less than a period of 12 months from the first day of the month following the date on which the member's first subscription is credited to the bank account of the Council or from such other date as the Board or Executive may determine in respect of any particular member or group of members (i.e. joining date 23rd June 2020 – renewal date 1st July 2021).
- Any member who fails to pay their subscription within three months of it falling due may be excluded from membership, unless the Board or Executive determines otherwise. If excluded that member shall cease to have any rights or privileges of membership and must return any certificates or cards or any other relevant materials denoting membership to the Council. Such a member shall remain liable to the Council for the amount due unless the Board directs otherwise and in association with Article 34 of the Articles of Association.

- Any notices for payment or otherwise formally served by the Council are permitted to be served by electronic, post or other means and will have been deemed to have been served at the expiration of an appropriate timescale for the method of transit and there being no proof that failure of such notice being received is available.

2. Adviser rules

An adviser is a qualified mortgage or financial adviser who gives advice and makes recommendations on lifetime mortgages and home reversion plans.

2.1 Members should familiarise themselves with and have in place advice processes that ensure they adhere to all the rules set out by the FCA in its Mortgages and home finance Conduct of Business sourcebook (MCOB). Members should pay particular attention to the rules concerning advised sales in MCOB chapter 8.5A.

[FCA Handbook,
MCOB 8.5A Advised Sales.](#)

2.2 Family involvement:

Where applicable, members should ensure there has been a full discussion as to the implications of the plan for the customer and for their family, and that the customer was made fully aware of such implications. If such a discussion does not take place at the customer's request, the reason for not consulting with their family should be clearly documented.

2.3 Risks, features and benefits:

Members should ensure the customer is (are) advised of the risks, features and benefits of the relevant product before proceeding with an application.

2.4 Physical and mental health:

Members should ensure that the customer's physical and mental health has been considered in relation to the suitability of the plan. If there is any doubt regarding the customer's capacity an independent opinion from a suitably qualified medical practitioner may be required.

FCA, Occasional Paper 8, Practitioners Pack. Equity Release Council, Adviser Guide to Equity Release.

2.5 Joint applications:

In the case of a joint application, members should ensure that both customers are involved in, and have a voice in, discussions concerning the plan and that both have read and understood all information provided by the adviser.

2.6 Wills and LPAs:

Members should ensure that the customer is advised to seek advice about reviewing and updating their existing will or putting in place a will if they do not have one, once a product has been taken out.

Members should also recommend that the customer seeks advice about updating any existing power of attorney (POA) or lasting power of attorney (LPA). If no POA or LPA is in place, the customer should be advised to seek assistance in arranging LPA.

Council Wills and Trusts webinar. Council Powers of Attorney Webinar.

2.7 Suitability report:

Members should ensure the customer receives a written record of their advice and recommendation. This is referred to in these rules as "the suitability report."

2.8 Checklist for advisers:

Members are required to complete the Checklist for Advisers, which is set out at appendix C, for all customers where a plan has been recommended, and ensure each of the points in the checklist have been fully covered.

Equity Release Council, Adviser Checklist and Supporting Resources.

2.9 Drawdown:

Members must complete the drawdown section included as part of the Council's Checklist for Advisers and ensure that an explanation is included within the suitability report.

Equity Release Council, Adviser Checklist and Supporting Resources.

2.10 Customer data:

Firms should have a written policy for personal and/or sensitive data that explains to customers how this will be recorded, used, stored and shared.

[Information
Commissioner's Office.](#)

2.11 Quality assurance:

Members should implement robust quality assurance programmes that aim to improve customer experience and outcomes, and routinely test these to ensure that customers are treated fairly, and with empathy and sensitivity to their individual circumstances.

[Equity Release Council,
Competency Framework.](#)

[Equity Release Council,
Adviser Checklist and Supporting Resources.](#)

2.12 Customer contact:

Contact all customers who are referred to them for advice by provider members with the aim of checking the need for advice. The outcome of this contact (whether advice was provided or not) should be shared with the provider.

2.13 Financial inducements:

Adviser members must not accept financial inducements from any third parties, including (but not limited to) providers or solicitors, when directing specific customers to any particular law firm.

[FCA Handbook,
MCOB 2.3 Inducements.](#)

2.14 Advisers should ensure they are having and evidencing specific conversations around the options available for interest served or capital repayment lifetime mortgage solutions to mitigate the impact of roll-up interest over a longer period of time. This is of particular relevance when advising younger borrowers (55 to 60).

2.15 Second charges

Where an adviser is proposing that a client with an existing lifetime mortgage should effect a second charge, good practice would be to check that a referral to the first chargeholder has first been considered. Evidence of this should be retained on the client file.

3. Provider rules

A provider (also known as a lender) is the financial firm who issues and underwrites lifetime mortgages and home reversion plans.

3.1 Accepting business:

Provider members may only accept applications for equity release products from firms, or their appointed representatives, which:

- Are authorised and regulated by the FCA.
- Have advisers who hold an appropriate equity release qualification.
- Are permitted to advise customers on equity release products and have recommended the product being applied for.

MC OBS.

3.2 Submitting business:

Each application for business must be supported by a declaration signed by the adviser or, where an application is being submitted online through secure password protected access, that confirms the adviser is appropriately qualified in home reversion plans and or lifetime mortgages as prescribed by the FCA.

MC OBS Permissions.

3.3 Sales process:

Provider members are not permitted to accept execution-only business, in any circumstances. Sales must always be made on an advised basis with a personal recommendation being given to the customer. This rule also applies to any existing customer seeking to increase borrowing under an existing lifetime mortgage or home reversion contract.

3.4 Receiving business:

Provider members should not accept business unless they have taken reasonable steps to satisfy themselves that adviser members have followed these rules and taken account of this guidance.

3.5 Communication:

Ensure that appropriate ongoing communication with customers is in place throughout the life of the product.

3.6 Customer data:

Have a written policy for personal and/or sensitive data that explains to customers how this will be recorded, used, stored and shared.

3.7 Product Standards:

Members must only indicate that a product meets the Council's Product Standards if that product meets all the Product Standards described in paragraphs 3.8, 3.9, 3.10, 3.11 and 3.12. If an equity release product is offered that does not meet all of the Product Standards the product provider must state prominently in adviser-and consumer-facing literature that the product does not meet all of the Product Standards. The literature must explicitly state which Product Standards are not met and give an illustration of the types of risks this poses to a customer.

3.8 Right to remain:

Customers must have the right to remain in their property for life, or until they move into long-term care, provided the property remains their main residence and they adhere to the terms and conditions of the contract.

3.9 Right to move:

Customers will be confident that they will be able to live in their own property for as long as they wish, or move to a suitable alternative property, have the ability to move to another property (subject to lending criteria at the time of move) as long as they abide by the terms and conditions of their contract. This means that:

- For home reversion plans customers must be offered a new plan in respect of a suitable alternative property on terms no less favourable than those offered to new customers at the time. A provider member may charge a customer reasonable costs and expenses for entering into the new plan.
- For lifetime mortgages customers must be allowed to transfer the lifetime mortgage contract to a suitable alternative property, with no increase in the rate of interest.
- If the new property is of insufficient value to secure the amount owed to the provider, any partial repayment will be limited so that the net amount remaining shall not be less than the percentage of the property value that the provider would advance to a new customer in comparable circumstances.
- No early repayment or similar charge may be made in respect of the property agreed to be the customer's main residence at the time the lifetime mortgage contract was entered into, but a provider member may charge a customer reasonable costs and expenses for transferring a plan to the alternative property.

3.10 Right to make penalty free payments, subject to lender criteria:

All products should include a facility for customers to make voluntary repayments.

3.11 Interest rates:

Interest rates must be either fixed or, if variable, have a cap fixed for the life of the loan

3.12 No Negative Equity Guarantee (“NNEG”):

The product must have a NNEG so that, whenever the amount owing to the provider member is to be repaid from the proceeds of sale of the secured property, the amount owing must not exceed the net proceeds of sale (after deduction of selling agents’ fees, legal fees, disbursements and reasonable costs). Provided the property is sold for the best price reasonably obtainable, the provider member shall accept the net proceeds of sale in full and final settlement of the amount owing

3.13 NNEG:

If a customer has more than one lifetime mortgage contract outstanding with a provider member, the NNEG applies to each property individually, so that a member may not seek to recover any shortfall in repayment from the sale of one property, by claiming from the customer, the customer’s estate, or the sale, proceeds of any other property

3.14 NNEG:

Provider members should explain clearly when the NNEG does and does not apply. This explanation should be included in the key facts illustration (KFI) and in the offer document and may also form part of the provider’s terms and conditions. The explanation should clarify when the NNEG does apply, for example where the property is sold and there is a shortfall between the proceeds of sale and the amount owed to the provider, and when the NNEG will not apply, for example where:

- The customer repays the loan early without selling the property.

- The customer’s beneficiaries wish to keep the property after the customer has died or moved permanently into long-term care and intend to repay the loan from funds other than the proceeds of sale.
- The property is sold, but not at the best price reasonably obtainable.
- The property has not been kept in a good state of repair.

3.15 Changes to loan:

If a provider significantly changes the terms of the original loan when arranging a further advance, the provider should inform the adviser that this will happen at the beginning of the further advance process.

3.16 Criteria changes:

The criteria set out in provider members’ contract terms cannot be varied unilaterally, either by the provider member, or any person to whom the provider member may subsequently sell the loan or plan, unless the customer is in breach of the terms.

3.17 Product Certificate:

Whenever a provider member introduces a new product, or materially varies an existing product, a Certificate of Compliance with the Product Standards must be completed and submitted to the Council.

4. Drawdown rules

A drawdown is a pre-agreed facility to release additional funds without additional underwriting, up to a limit specified at outset.

4.1 Members must act responsibly in recommending and releasing drawdown monies to customers by ensuring that customers:

- a) meet the benchmarks outlined in an appropriate set of financial crime, vulnerability, data and capacity policies.
- b) are offered a route to support when required e.g. further advice.

c) have fully understood their effect in relation to accessing monies from a drawdown facility and the costs involved.

4.2 Members must proactively:

a) regularly review the effectiveness of frameworks for identifying, capturing and responding to a range of influencing factors at both the point of sale and when additional borrowing decisions are being made.

b) look at practical ways to validate that drawdowns are for a legal and legitimate purposes.

5. Legal rules

For the purposes of this section, all references to “solicitor” shall be taken as meaning “or barrister, or licensed conveyancer or chartered legal executive.” Any such solicitor must hold a current practising certificate and have the benefit of appropriate professional indemnity insurance.

5.1 Independent legal advice and the Solicitor’s Certificate:

Independent legal advice, setting out the legal obligations, risks and rewards of an equity release product is a mandatory requirement before an equity release plan can be completed. As such, a Solicitor’s Certificate, signed by both the advising solicitor and the customer, must always be in place before completion, thereby providing confirmation that the advice referred to has been given. The certificate, which is in a standard form, confirms that the advising solicitor has drawn the customer’s attention to the points set out within it.

[Solicitor
Certificate.](#)

5.2 Face to face meeting requirement:

It is essential that the advising solicitor, or an agent solicitor, should meet the customer face-to-face which, for the avoidance of doubt requires a physical meeting rather than reliance on electronic or telephonic means of communication in order to satisfy the requirements set out in rule 5.3 below. Any person who is acting as attorney or deputy for the customer in the equity release plan must also receive independent legal advice as if he or she were the customer. In cases of physical incapacity, if the provider requires it, both the borrower and attorney (or deputy/guardian as applicable) should be in receipt of the independent legal advice.

Equity Release Council fees and charges information.

5.3 Requirements of the solicitor who meets the Customer.

The solicitor (whether this is the advising solicitor or the agent solicitor) who meets the customer face-to-face is required to witness the customer’s (or attorney’s) signature on any documents which are required to be executed as deeds and to verify (insofar as they are reasonably able to, acting with all due diligence):

- The customer’s (or attorney’s) identity and signature.
- That the customer (or attorney) has sufficient mental capacity to enter into the equity release contract.
- That the customer (or attorney) is not under any duress or undue influence to enter into the equity release contract.
- That, in the case of joint customers (or attorneys), each agrees to enter into the equity release contract.
- That, in the case of the equity release contract being entered into by an Attorney on behalf of a customer, the Power of Attorney or Deputyship Order under which the equity release contract is to be made is valid and correctly executed.

5.4 Acting as an agent:

Where the solicitor who meets the customer is acting as the agent of the advising solicitor, he or she must act in accordance with the written instructions issued by the advising solicitor and highlight any concerns to the advising solicitor following the meeting with the customer. As such, the advising solicitor must outline the requirements in 5.3 above to the agent solicitor and request confirmation that each element has been satisfied.

Guidance.

5.5 Marketing costs:

Solicitors may pay periodic contributions towards the marketing costs of intermediary firms, such as advisors, in return for non specified numbers of referrals provided such payments are not calculated or aggregated on the basis of the number of cases referred. These are generic payments, designed to publicise the law firm's service in the hope of receiving a non-specified number of referred customers. Solicitors must not therefore make any payment or give any other consideration to an intermediary firm on a case-by-case basis, regardless of the regulator's own rules in this respect.

Solicitors may pay periodic contributions towards the marketing costs of intermediary firms, such as advisors, in return for non-specified numbers of referrals, provided such payments are not calculated or aggregated on the basis of the number of cases referred. Solicitors must inform the customer in writing of the amount and frequency of any financial arrangement, including marketing contributions, when issuing customer case documentation at the outset.

6. Property valuation rules

6.1 In respect of all products, an up to date valuation must be carried out by a Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors (RICS) qualified independent valuer who:

- Is a current member of the RICS and registered under the RICS and registered under the RICS Valuer Registration Scheme (RICS VRS).
- Works in a practice comprising at least two fully qualified RICS members who are also registered under the RICS VRS.
- Works in a practice which carries professional indemnity insurance in compliance with the RICS's requirements.

Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors.

6.2 The onus is on the equity release provider (or its panel manager) to ensure that each individual valuer instructed to undertake valuations on its behalf is RICS VRS registered.

6.3 In the interests of transparency and good customer service, it is good practice for a copy of the valuer's report to be given to the adviser and customer. However, it should also be clear that the purpose of the valuation is for assisting a lending decision and not for the benefit of property condition or valuation advice to the customer.

  - 3.2 Where the equity release contract is a home reversion, in the event of their early death[s] they may have received little benefit during their lifetime[s] but nonetheless their estate[s] would be considerably depleted due to sale of the Property (or part of it) under this equity release contract.
  - 3.3 The amount of state or other benefits to which they may be entitled, either now or in the future, may be reduced as a result of proceeding with the equity release contract.
